PROCEDURE AGAINST "GUEST AUTHORSHIP" / "GHOSTWRITING"

Redaction

INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF NEW ECONOMICS AND SOCIAL SCIENCES (IJONESS) ISSN 2450-2146

Use the procedure against "Guest authorship"

A procedure is used against "guest authorship" in the event that one of the authors has made a significant contribution to the publication, but does not disclose his participation as one of the authors or without mentioning his role in the publication. Editors should also receive information from authors of the publication on sources of funding, the contribution of research institutes, associations and other organizations ("disclosure of financial information").

In order to prevent cases of "guest authorship", the editorial board of the journal introduces the following decisions:

1. The authors of the publication disclose the contribution of individual authors in the creation of the publication (with their belonging and contribution, that is, who is the author of the concept, provisions, methods, protocol, etc. used in the preparation of the publication), with the main responsibility of the author- applicant.
2. The editorial board reports that "guest authorship" is a sign of scientific dishonesty, and all cases that have been identified will be announced, including notification of relevant subjects (institutions, authors, scientific societies, the association of scientific editors, etc.).
3. The editorial board informs the authors about the obligation to indicate the sources of funding for the publication, the contribution of research institutes, associations and other organizations ("disclosure of financial information").
4. The editorial board informs the authors that they intend to document all forms of scientific bad faith, especially violations of intellectual property and violations of author's ethics.
